

2nd Graduate Symposium in Translation

NEW VOICES IN PORTUGUESE TRANSLATION STUDIES

FCSH-UNL, 24th January 2019, Auditorium II

CALL FOR PAPERS

Following the success of our 1st Graduate Symposium in Translation Studies, held in 2018, we are delighted to announce a second edition to be held in January 2019. Like last year, this Symposium aims to provide a forum where students of Translation and Translation Studies can develop their presentation skills in a safe environment. It is part of a broader initiative to develop Translation Studies in Portugal by offering a support framework for young researchers who might wish to go on to pursue a career in the field: hence, feedback will be offered to any participant that actively requests it.

The Symposium is aimed primarily at Masters or Doctorate students, though people specializing in Translation at Bachelor's (licenciatura) and Postdoctorate levels are also welcome. It is open to people from all Portuguese universities and beyond.

Papers should be between 15-20 minutes and may be in English or in Portuguese. They may cover any aspect of Translation or Translation Studies. Suggested topics include:

- Descriptive studies involving translated texts in different languages, periods, cultures and media
- Theoretical papers about translational issues
- Questions relating to the practice of translation in different domains (technical, pragmatic, literary, scientific, legal, audiovisual etc)
- Interpreting
- Translator training and translation pedagogy
- Research methods in Translation Studies
- Translation technology
- ...

A short abstract of up to 250 words should be sent to voicetranslation@gmail.com by 31st December 2018, accompanied by a brief biosketch (up to 50 words). If you wish to receive feedback on your presentation from one of the members of staff, please also indicate this on your proposal. You will be informed by 10th January if your paper has been accepted.