PORTUGUESE INITIATIVES

CALLS FOR PAPERS

Colloquium Voice of Customer, University of Aveiro. 29th-30th November.

Domain-specific contexts, texts and tools demand that research and practice in Technical Communication, Translation and Terminology generate intense dialogue with industry, the institutions and the professions to cross-pollinate specialist contributions. With this Technical Communication Colloquium, organised by CLLC, CLUNL, APCOMTEC and NOKIA we aim to bring together those who work for customers and the customers themselves, in order to attend to gaps, share ideas, and reflect on new ways of doing more and better. Deadline for proposals: 31st July. <http://jorcomtec.web.ua.pt/>

Conference: “A host of tongues...”: Multilingualism, lingua franca and translation in the Early Modern period. FCSH Lisbon, 13th to 15th December.

Extended deadline for submissions: 22 July 2018 <https://ahostoftongues.org>.

Conference Translation as Reframing. University of the Azores. June 27-28 2019.

The concept of reframing is widely used across different fields (sociology, journalism, film studies, business management, conflict management) to stress the idea that placing an object or situation in a new context – a new frame – changes the way it can be perceived and interpreted. Reframing emphasizes acts of decision-making that illustrate ideological constraints, identity formation processes, the manipulation of cultural images, and asymmetrical power relations at large. This conference invites scholars to rethink a broad range of translation issues through the lens of reframing, its devices and the agents involved in their creation. Deadline for proposals: 31st January 2019.
