

CETAPS welcomes application proposals to Marie Skłodowska-Curie Postdoctoral Fellowships 2026

If you want to apply to a Marie Skłodowska-Curie Postdoctoral Fellowship and would like to have CETAPS (Centre for English, Translation and Anglo-Portuguese Studies) as your host institution, please send us your application proposal, with the following (in English):

- A detailed Curriculum Vitae;
- Title and summary of your research project/work plan, indicating the corresponding research area in CETAPS in which it could be developed, and if you intend to apply for an European or a Global Fellowship;
- A motivation letter.

Please submit your proposal to cetapsgestao@fcs.unl.pt until 5 July 2026.
The Centre will notify the applicants of its decision until 17 July 2026.

CETAPS is a dynamic research centre that brings together 65 integrated members and 144 collaborators, promoting research and activities with high national and international reach. It was graded as Excellent in the most recent FCT Evaluation (2023-2024). CETAPS has two branches, one in Lisbon, at the NOVA School of Social Sciences and Humanities, and the other in Porto, at the Faculty of Arts and Humanities of University of Porto, in Portugal.

CETAPS' seven research areas are:

- Anglo-Portuguese Studies;
- Anglophone Cultures and History;
- Teacher Education and Applied Language Studies;
- Translationality;
- Mapping Utopianisms;
- Relational Forms: Medial and Textual Transits in Ireland and Britain;
- Shakespeare and the English Canon: History, Criticism, Translation.

For further information, please contact:

Mariana Gonçalves

CETAPS - NOVA School of Social Sciences and Humanities

cetapsgestao@fcs.unl.pt